"Jaan" 138 feet, built 1997 Intermarine SPA, one of the luxurious yachts whose physical appearance, interior and fine lining, literally complete the word elegance.

Once on board "Jaan", you will find yourself at her main deck. Here you will immediately notice the exquisite work and design made with precise craftsmanship. In the center of the deck there is a table which can accommodate twelve persons, with its half moon cushion couch and four sofa chairs. Directly in front of the table is the entrance to the salon. To the left and right sides are stairs leading to the Upper Deck and the Sun Deck.

Once you are in the salon to your left and right, you will find your refined and very alluring “velvety” soft cream sofas. These sofas can very comfortably accommodate six persons each. Escorting your sofas and directly in front of them, are two marble topped low-cut coffee tables on rosewood bases with space at the bottom for your reading material. A little farther from the sofa couches; you will find two sofa arm chairs and small round coffee table all of the same quality. At the end of the salon is the wonderful and formal dining room area, separated from the salon by a most charming wooden fit in cabinet, which reveals the Satellite Plasma TV by a touch of a button. To the right of the cabinet, a small bar is located allowing your exquisite crew to serve you at any time you wish to have a beverage. This entire area is fitted with cream wall to wall carpeting.

After having enjoyed your gourmet dining, you may enjoy reading a book or playing a board game in the library. This cozy area is to the right after the dining area. At the left of the dining area is the kitchen, which is fitted with the most up to date equipment to meet every demand. Once in the library, to your right, is a wonderful leather couch which faces the book case. Next to the sofa is the chess table. Exiting the library, directly ahead you will find the secluded Master stateroom and adjoining study. A little bit before you enter the Master suite, to your left is a small circulating staircase leading you to the Double and Twin staterooms, while to the right prior your entrance is another staircase leading up to the VIP stateroom.

Once inside your superb Master stateroom, you will find a small snug three seat sofa couch and to your right, cabinets and vanity. Your King Size bed is in the centre of the stateroom, with a low-cut night-tables and night lamps to each of its sides. Your wardrobe may easily be situated, in the “his and hers” walk in closet located to the left of the bed. Inside the closet is also a safe box. The Master stateroom, like the rest of the staterooms, has more than enough drawers for your personal belonging. To the right of the bed is the en-suite facility, with two water-basins surrounded by onyx marble, a glass case shower and Jacuzzi. To broaden your comfort, you will find Satellite TV, DVD player, CD home stereo system along with air-conditioning. Also plenty of windows surround the Master stateroom ensuring ample light during the day and installed lights during for the night.

The VIP stateroom is located on the Upper Deck, you may enter either by climbing a few steps up the staircase located to the right prior the entrance before the Library or from the stairs outside on all decks. Once inside this beautiful room, you will notice its remarkable view from its surrounding windows. Facing the King Size bed to the right is the en-suite facility with two water-basins, onyx marble bath/Jacuzzi and glass shower. To the left of the bed is the “his and hers” walk in closet. The entire cabin in general has plenty of space for your personal belongings with its drawers, so like all the cabins on “Jaan”, space is not a problem. Your bed is located in the center of the cabin and at both sides of the bed there low-cut night-tables and night lamps for your comfort. There is also a small snug three seat sofa couch to the left of the room. Once again like all the rooms, Satellite TV, DVD player, CD home stereo system along with air-conditioning are situated in the VIP stateroom for your pleasure. Also on the Upper Deck and across the VIP stateroom you will find the Bridge, which has all the state of the art technology for your navigation and safety. Directly in front of the VIP stateroom is the entrance to the Upper Deck, where here too you may enjoy the view, sun and relaxation. Here you may be seated on the half moon sofa couch with two tables escorting them and two cushion director arm chairs. From the Upper Deck, there are staircases both to the left and right of the deck leading to the Sun Deck.

To enter the two Double staterooms and two Twin staterooms, you have to proceed down to the Lower Deck. Access to the Lower Deck is made by climbing the stairs down from the hall located on the main deck prior to the entrance of the salon. The Double staterooms are somewhat identical, except for minimal decoration differences and shading. Both of these beautiful cabins have their Queen Size bed in the center, “his and hers” walk in closet and en-suite facility. The en-suite facility has two water basins and Jacuzzi, surrounded by gorgeous onyx marble. You will also find Satellite TV, DVD player, CD home stereo system and air-conditioning included for your comfort.

Lastly but most definitely not the least, are your two Twin cabins. The adjacent Twin Cabins both have walk in closet, en-suite facilities with glass case shower and water basin, ample space and appealing luminosity. The first Twin stateroom has two single beds located at each side with a petit night table separating them with a night lamp on top. The second Twin Cabin has the exact same comforts; the only difference is that the single beds placed in the shape of an “L”. Another great asset for these Twin staterooms is that they may be converted into a single spacious suit by a sliding door, enabling family to keep the younger parties together. Also, both cabins have Satellite TV, DVD player, CD home stereo system and air-conditioning included.

The last area on board “Jaan” for your enjoyment is the Sun Deck/Fly Bridge. Here guests are most definitely going to enjoy the panoramic view and take in plenty of rays! Right behind the steering, there are two very large sunbathing beds and at the far end of the deck, there is a half moon sofa couch with coffee table.

Besides the fantastic quarters, facilities and extremely elegant styling, “Jaan's” crew is the one which places the final touch. The crew is sure to tend to all your needs and make sure that you will have an unforgettable cruise filled with remarkable memories and safety.
